Yogas Formed

Only combinations that this engine can prove from an explicit classical rule are listed, each with the text it comes from. If a yoga is absent, it did not form in this chart — the list is not abridged for length.

Yoga	How it forms here	Source
Raja Yoga	Moon, lord of the 4th, and Jupiter, lord of the 9th, are in mutual aspect	Brihat Parashara Hora Shastra ch. 41
Raja Yoga	Saturn, lord of the 10th, and Mars, lord of the 1st, are in mutual exchange of signs	Brihat Parashara Hora Shastra ch. 41
Raja Yoga	Saturn, lord of the 10th, and Jupiter, lord of the 9th, are in conjunction	Brihat Parashara Hora Shastra ch. 41
Dhana Yoga	Mars, lord of the 1st, and Saturn, lord of the 11th, are in mutual exchange of signs	Phaladeepika ch. 6
Dhana Yoga	Jupiter, lord of the 9th, and Saturn, lord of the 11th, are in conjunction	Phaladeepika ch. 6
Neechabhanga Raja Yoga	Saturn is debilitated in Aries (H1); cancellation holds because the debilitated Saturn itself occupies a kendra from the lagna (the 1st) Authors differ on how completely neechabhanga restores a planet; many hold that results arrive only after struggle.	Jataka Parijata ch. 7; Brihat Parashara Hora Shastra ch. 34
Parivartana Yoga (Maha)	Mars (lord of the 1st) and Saturn (lord of the 10th) occupy each other's signs — an exchange between two auspicious houses	Phaladeepika ch. 6
Gajakesari Yoga	Jupiter stands in the 7th from the Moon	Phaladeepika ch. 6
Sunapha Yoga	Venus occupies the 2nd from the Moon	Saravali ch. 34
Budhaditya Yoga	the Sun and Mercury share Sagittarius, 8.5° apart Mercury is combust at 8.5° from the Sun, and many authors hold that combustion weakens or voids this yoga.	Phaladeepika ch. 6

Strength

Shadbala in rupas against the classical requirement for each graha. These totals omit varsha bala, masa bala and yuddha bala, which this engine does not compute, so they run slightly below a textbook figure and should be read as relative rather than absolute.

Evidence and What It Supports

Each area of life below was tested against nine kinds of chart factor. An area is reported only where at least two different kinds of factor agree; a kind that cancels itself out casts no vote. Areas that fail the test are listed as withheld rather than filled in with something plausible.

Calculations use the Swiss Ephemeris with Lahiri (Chitrapaksha) ayanamsa, the standard for Vedic astrology. Birth-time accuracy matters: the ascendant changes sign roughly every two hours, and a ten-minute error can shift the nakshatra pada.
